TECHNOLOGY TUESDAYS

Looking for fun gadgets to put under the Christmas tree? Or maybe your spouse would like some cool new apps on his or her iPhone for Hanukkah? At our 2nd Annual Holiday Technology Spectacular we'll take a peek at the new products, apps and websites that people are buzzing about this year. Bring some of your own ideas to share!

Next, do you know that you can now check out ebooks to your Kindle (as well as other ereaders and mobile devices) from the library? We'll demonstrate this and talk about all the popular new eReaders, including the Nook tablet, the Kindle Fire and the latest Sony Reader at our Ereader and Ebook Update.

Finally, it's hard for Facebook users to keep up with all the changes that Facebook has made to its layout, privacy settings and functionality. Come to our What's New With Facebook? class and learn everything you need to know to be a Facebook master.

Technology Tuesdays is open to all ages and skills, although a basic knowledge of computers (how to use a mouse and keyboard, how to get on the Internet) is required. Each class is taught by Mike Gershbein and will last one hour.

Tuesday, January 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The new home on Washington Avenue perfectly complements its traditional neighborhood, but inside it's anything but conventional. A significant lesson in sustainable design, the Slotnick residence is one of the state's first LEED Platinum homes. Learn all about it from the architect, Nathan Kipnis, who also will provide an overview of green concepts that may be used in both new and renovation projects. Homeowners Natalie and Barry Slotnick will be present to speak about what it's like to live in their green home. Mr. Kipnis is the principal of Kipnis Architecture + Planning, an Evanston firm that specializes in green and sustainable architectural practices.

E-PAY IS UP AND RUNNING!

It is now possible to pay for both overdue fines and lost items with your credit card. Meet the Staff

KIMBERLY WARGIN

I am a Circulation Assistant, baker, proud aunt, and avid reader. The last book I read was The Keep by Jennifer Egan. Don't let the title fool you. You'll laugh, you'll cry and then something will grab you from behind. I loved it! My favorite author is Sue Grafton. I met her years ago at a signing of her book, 'K' is for Killer. Kinsey Millhone never fails to disappoint in her pursuit of the bad guy.

When I'm not working, I'm taking care of my loving, energetic niece or watching my gracious, talented nephew play soccer. And if I have a few extra minutes, I'll bake a batch of chocolate chip cookies. I have the best recipe.

Other hats I've worn in the past: Customer Service Associate with Neiman Marcus, copy editor with the Society of Actuaries, bookseller with Barnes and Noble. I'm most happy when I am surrounded by books, talking with others about books.

The one accomplishment I am most proud of: playing the piano. I began at age seven and continued through my high school years. I wasn't half bad.

Life-changing moment: adopting my first cat. Nutmeg happily shares a one bedroom condo with me in the northwest suburbs. He has taught me that the heart always makes room for another stray.

What makes me happiest these days: knowing that when I wake up in the morning, I am heading off to work at one of my most favorite places with a cracker-jack staff and the friendliest of patrons.

Donations to the Library

The library is most appreciative of donations made in honor or in memory of a loved one or to commemorate a special event. Special bookplates are placed inside the materials and notes are sent to honorees and their families. The library has recently received a donation from Ronee Rich and Bobette Cohen Takiff.
