Did You Know?

BANNED BOOKS WEEK IS SEPTEMBER 22–28

Banned Books Week is an annual event celebrating the freedom to read and the importance of the First Amendment. Observed during the last week of September each year, it draws attention to the harms of censorship by spotlighting actual or attempted restriction of access to books across the United States.

Every year, the Glencoe Public Library observes Banned Books Week with displays and lists of books that have been banned or challenged in libraries and schools across the United States. Look for our displays, pick up a banned books list (some of the titles will surprise you!), attend our September 22 “Books on the Chopping Block” performance (see page 2), or—best of all—become a banned books reader.

WE WANT TO KNOW WHICH MAGAZINES AND NEWSPAPERS YOU LIKE

We need your ideas and your help with our periodical collections. From now through October 31, please do not reshelve the magazines and newspapers you read. We’ll do it for you and in the process we’ll be tallying which are used and which are not. Very important: if there is a title you’d like to be able to read at the library but we don’t subscribe, please let us know so that we can consider adding it. Thanks for your help with this.

Print Wirelessly at the Library!

Imagine you’re at the coffee shop and realize that you need to print a document. What to do? Or perhaps your printer at home has picked the most inopportune moment to stop functioning, as they tend to do. Or maybe you’re just working in the library with your iPad, laptop or mobile device and need to print wirelessly. Surely, there has to be a way....

Help has arrived. In June, the Glencoe Library installed a new printing system. We are really excited about this improvement to library services, which allows us to offer you more printing options. With this new system you can...

- Print in black and white or color
- Print from your wireless devices (iPads, iPhones and Android devices) by downloading the free PrinterOn app from iTunes or GooglePlay.
- Send a print job from home, the coffee shop or from within the library by visiting our wireless printing page at <http://printspots.com/glencoepl/webprint> (at the library’s web page, click “Computers and Printing,” then select “wireless printing page,” within the “Printing section.”)

Complete instructions are available at the Reference Desk. Color copies are 25 cents per page and black and white are 10 cents per page. The first three pages continue to be free.

OPEN BOOK: BLUE BALLIETT AUTHOR PROGRAM

Monday, October 21, at 4:00 p.m. at the Takiff Center

Children ages 8 and up with parent or caregiver

Glencoe welcomes Blue Balliett, Chicago’s own award-winning children’s book author of such favorites as Chasing Vermeer and The Wright 3. Hold Fast, her latest mystery, hit The New York Times Bestseller List and has received acclaimed reviews in Times and the Chicago Tribune. Copies of Blue’s novels will be available for sale at the program by The Book Stall. Light refreshments will be served. To accommodate a large audience, this special event will be hosted in the Community Hall of the Takiff Center.

Of Special Interest ...

UNDERSTANDING SOCIAL SECURITY

Tuesday, September 10, at 7:00 p.m.

If you are retired or will be soon, it's essential to understand how Social Security works: when it makes sense to delay benefits, whether to "file and suspend," claiming now versus claiming more later, and minimizing taxation of benefits. This program will be presented by adviser Les Goldstein of Personal Financial Strategies (and finance instructor at Oakton Community College).

COUNTDOWN TO COLLEGE

Thursday, September 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Sorting through and narrowing down college options can be a daunting process. Sandra Gilbert and Pat Cannon of Ravinia College Consultants will share their expertise and insights about figuring out where to apply, plus tips on what colleges are looking for. Bring your questions! For parents and students.

A SATURDAY IN GLENCOE IN 1935

Sunday, September 15, at 2:00 p.m.

What was it like to be a ten-year-old in Glencoe in 1935? Roland Calhoun — longtime resident, local historian and entertaining storyteller — will treat our community to his recollections. Mr. Calhoun was the eighth of eight children, the grandson of Charles Browne (one of the 10 original Glencoe Company founders), and village president from 1968 to 1976. This promises to be a Very Glencoe event!

BOOKS ON THE CHOPPING BLOCK

Sunday, September 22, at 2:00 p.m.

Get behind your right to read freely and celebrate Banned Books Week! City Lit Theater Company will return to the library to present a highly entertaining concert reading of excerpts from the top ten most frequently challenged books of 2012. Since 2006, City Lit — a Chicago theater specializing in staged adaptations of literary material — has teamed up with the American Library Association's Office of Intellectual Freedom in honor of Banned Books Week. Its actors perform Books on the Chopping Block at special events, libraries, and bookstores in and around Chicago all week long. The performance runs 50 minutes and is followed by a discussion. While the program is intended for adults, children in approximately grade 6 and up are welcome to attend.

WRITERS' OPEN MIC NIGHTS: POETRY AND PROSE AT THE GLENCOE LIBRARY

Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m., October 9, November 6, and December 11

Writers of all ages working in all forms and genres are invited to share their work at these community literary evenings. Bob Boone — writer, teacher, editor, director of Young Chicago Authors program and founder of the Glencoe Study Center — will be the moderator and will invite occasional special guest readers. If you want to read your work, please email Bob in advance at ycagsc@aol.com so he can coordinate the evening's roster. Everyone is welcome to participate by reading or just by being an appreciative audience for the many talented writers in our community.

MOVERS IN THE SKY: COMETS, METEORS, AND ASTEROIDS

Monday, October 14, at 10:30 a.m.

Comet ISON will graze the sun's atmosphere on November 28. If it survives its solar encounter, ISON could emerge glowing as brightly as the moon and visible to the unaided eye, even in broad daylight! Astrophysicist (and former NASA consultant) Kevin Manning presented a very popular program here last spring and returns on Columbus Day (a no-school day) for another vivid peek at the universe. This program is for adults and children 10 and older. If the sky is clear, participants are invited to go outside with Dr. Manning after the program to view sun spots through NASA-approved filters.

AUTHOR TALK: JEANNE NOLAN, FROM THE GROUND UP

Tuesday, October 22, at 7:00 p.m.

Glencoe resident Jeanne Nolan's book From the Ground Up: A Food Grower's Education in Life, Love and the Movement That's Changing the Nation is an engaging blend of how-to, manifesto and memoir. Published in July, her book chronicles her journey back to the North Shore after 17 years of living on a communal farm. The founder of The Organic Gardener Ltd., Ms. Nolan has designed and cultivated more than 650 farms and food gardens in and around Chicago, including the Edible Gardens — a 5,000 square foot vegetable garden for children in Lincoln Park Zoo — and gardens at Glencoe's Central and South Schools. Copies of her book, which features a foreword by Alice Waters, will be available for purchase courtesy of Books on Vernon.

READINGS FROM THE NOVELS OF FORMER GLENCOE RESIDENT RICHARD SMOLEV

Sunday, November 3, at 2:30 p.m.

Please join us for a reading in honor of former Glencoe resident and author Richard Smolev. Richard and his wife Nancy Alessi lived in Glencoe for 15 years. Having long desired to write fiction, Richard found the inspiration for his first novel, Offerings, in a book he checked out of the Glencoe Library. His second novel, the early drafts of which were written in his Washington Avenue home, is entitled In Praise of Angels and was published in July. Due to illness, Richard won't be able to join us for the reading, so his close friend Alan Wolf will be our reader. Jordan and Anita Miller, owners of Richard's publisher Academy Chicago, and Alan Wolf and Margot Weinberg have donated copies of Richard's books to our library in his honor and as his legacy to Glencoe.

THE ULTIMATE GIFT: THE FACTS ABOUT LIVING DONATION

Tuesday, November 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Most of us know about organ and tissue donation from the option on our drivers' licenses, but few are aware of the urgent need for living kidney donors. One person's gift can save many lives. Living donors do not need to be blood relatives; in fact, there is increasing interest in donation to strangers. Presented by Harvey Mysel, a Glencoe resident and founder of the nonprofit Living Kidney Donors Network.

Technology Tuesdays

Apple recently announced its new streaming music service iTunes Radio, which joins a crowded field that includes Google, Amazon and Spotify in streaming music to your home computer and mobile device. In our Listen to Music Online class, we'll look at all the options that are available, as well as the library's free MP3 downloading service Freegal. Next, Apple recently announced iOS 7, the new version of its mobile operating system. iOS 7 has a very different look and feel from previous versions, as well as lots of great new features. We will provide an in-depth examination and demonstration of the new operating system in our Meet iOS 7 class. Finally, the way we access news has been changing over the last few years, with online news aggregators and paywalls becoming a major part of the landscape. We'll take a look at your options for accessing local, national and international news online (often at no cost) in our Get Your News Online class.

Technology Tuesdays is open to all ages and skills, although a basic knowledge of computers (how to use a mouse and keyboard, how to get on the Internet) is required. Each class is taught by Mike Gershbein and will last one hour.

All films in this series are screened at the Glencoe Woman's Club, 325 Tudor Court.

MUD

Monday, September 16, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

One of the year's best-reviewed films, Mud is a classic coming of age story played out in a rapidly changing Mississippi subculture of the 21st-century. In but one of a slew of recent memorable performances, Matthew McConaughey plays Mud, a fugitive hiding on an island in the Mississippi River who is discovered by two boys, Ellis and Neckbone. Mud is able to convince the boys to help him and an unusual friendship is born. "Mud is a lyrical coming-of-age tale that feels like a Mark Twain story in a contemporary setting." — Claudia Puig, USA Today.

131 minutes. Rated PG-13.

WHAT MAISIE KNEW

Monday, October 21, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

Based on the Henry James novel of the same title, What Maisie Knew updates the story to present-day New York. Young Maisie finds herself shuttled between divorced parents who have moved on to other partners and vie to win Maisie's company and affection. Among a strong cast, Onata Aprile might give the film's best performance as Maisie. "What Maisie Knew packs a surprising emotional punch, one that stays with you for a while when the movie's over." — Moira MacDonald, Seattle Times.

98 minutes. Rated R.

STORIES WE TELL

Monday, November 18, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

Actor and director Sarah Polley (Away From Her) give us one of the year's most original and thought-provoking documentaries. The simple story of the film is Sarah Polley's quest to determine her biological father. Is it Michael Polley, the man who raised her? Or perhaps one of the men with whom her late mother might have had an affair? Beyond that question, Stories We Tell examines the very concepts of family, identity and the sometimes tricky business of remembering.

108 minutes. Rated PG-13.

AMERICAN ART OF THE CIVIL WAR ERA

Wednesday, October 30, at 7:00 p.m.

This November marks the 150th anniversary of the Gettysburg Address and throughout this year there are numerous 150th anniversaries of Civil War battles and events. Art historian Jeff Mishur returns for this lecture, which looks at works of art that expressed the mood of the nation prior to, during and after the end of the war.

Library Staff News

MEET HEIDI HENKEL MCGARRY

I'm the staff member you see in the library continually reaching for the top shelf and performing knee bends on a non-stop basis. I am never far from my cart of books, audio books, DVDs, etc. If you do not see me, then you will probably hear me moving from room to room. I should probably request blinkers for my cart. If you have not already guessed, I am a library aide, a shelper of library materials. I was so excited to be offered the job last summer.

Heidi Henkel McGarry

I first came to know the library when my children were young and we were looking for things to do.

What a great source of afternoon entertainment. Not only did my children enjoy the books, they also participated in the many activities offered by the library, such as the summer reading program and the pet parade, to name just two. When I read the library was looking for an aide, I couldn't think of a more enjoyable work atmosphere. It has now been over a year, and my hunch was right. I truly enjoy my job and all the people who surround me.

Before moving to Illinois, I lived in Michigan and graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in education. When I moved to Chicago in 1986, I decided to take a different career path and enrolled in the paralegal program at Roosevelt University. I worked as a corporate and securities paralegal for six years. My husband and I moved to Glencoe in 1992 and are in the process of raising two teenagers.
